

Host families needed for international students

A home away from home

Every year, thousands of school age overseas students are educated at independent schools across the UK. When their school closes for half term holidays and exeat weekends, they need a great host family who will provide a home away from home.

Pippa's Guardians provides Guardianship services to international students who are studying at boarding schools across the country. They find supportive and caring families who can offer a welcoming home for students during their school holidays.

Becoming a host family can be a rewarding and enjoyable experience for the family too; providing the opportunity to really make a difference to a student whilst they are studying here in the UK, in many cases a very long way from home.

Ben Hughes, Managing Director for Pippa's Guardians explained "The families we look for are welcoming and are interested in other cultures. Having children of similar ages helps but isn't the most important thing as we have many successful host families who have no children, younger children or indeed older children who have left home. Being part of a family and experiencing day-to-day family life enhances our students' education."
